Examine the Ross Records
Before Buying a Sporting Rifle

Experts in Europe and America admit that the Ross .280 High Velocity is the best of modern arms. It combines the flattest trajectory, greatest accuracy, and most smashing power, with the strongest and fastest of actions.

At Bisley, in 1911, it absolutely distanced all competitors, winning almost every first place in the long range match rifle competitions, and first and second in the aggregate, while the regular Military Ross won the King's, the Prince of Wales' the Territorial aggregate, etc., etc.

Ask your dealer to show you the "Ross" High Velocity, which, despite its quality, sells at only $70.00. Let him get one on to show you if he has not one on hand—you should not miss a chance of owning one.

The Ross Illustrated Catalogue gives full particulars—we send it on application.

Other styles sell at from $25.00 up. Every one guaranteed $25.00 up.

The floral anchor was one of the largest floral pieces ever made in Canada. It was put together by Mr. Samuel Bain, and was nearly seven feet in height. So great were the crowds that visited this window that The Standard's photographer had to wait until nearly 2 o'clock in the morning before he could photograph it.
